

It's up to you

- Get this extra benefit through Amerigroup. It doesn't cost you anything.
- Keep all your same benefits. Your health home can help you get the most out of them.
- You're in charge! You decide when to join or change your health home. In some cases, being in a health home is needed to get certain added benefits, but usually, joining and staying in the health home is up to you.

What is a health home?

A health home helps manage care for all of you – body, mind and quality of life. It can help you keep track of your health care benefits – mental and physical health services, social supports, and community supports. Your health home can help you get the care you need to live on your own and stay healthy.

What can my health home do for me?

A health home will:

- Help identify services that may be helpful for you.
- Help you learn about your medicines and how to manage your own health.
- Give support to your family or other people who care for and support you.
- Follow up with you after being in the hospital or in the emergency room.
- Answer questions you may have about your health.
- A health home doesn't change or replace your existing services.

- A health home may provide the missing piece to your care, if and when you need it.
- A health home includes all of your care providers and other supports in a team approach to help you manage your health and wellness.
- A health home can give you the whole-person care you need.

You are a person, not a patient. An individual, not a number.

You can join a health home if you:

- Have health home covered services as an Amerigroup member through IA Health Link.
- Meet qualifying chronic health conditions such as heart disease, diabetes, asthma, hypertension, obesity, a mental health condition or substance use disorder.
- Meet qualifying mental health conditions such as psychotic disorders, schizophrenia, schizoaffective disorder, major depression, bipolar disorder, obsessive-compulsive disorder or delusional disorder.
- Are a child or youth with a Serious Emotional Disturbance (SED) (a SED is a diagnosable mental, behavioral or emotional disorder that affects taking part in and completing daily activities).
