

Rain, Shine or Superstorm — We're Here When You Need Us

What do health care emergencies and inclement weather have in common? Both can strike at any time and have devastating effects, and we have no control over them. All we can do is be prepared to respond and maintain continuity of care. Superstorm Sandy reminded us of the key role our case managers play in this equation.

Carla Toussaint, one of our New York City-based case managers, coordinates care for J., a pregnant member with chronic hypertension and severe obesity. Carla stayed in constant contact to make sure J. followed her treatment plans, monitored her blood pressure as instructed by her Alere Home Health case manager and kept her prenatal appointments. But in early October, J. stopped answering the phone.

"I wasn't going to give up on her," Carla reported. Carla not only kept calling J., but also kept tabs on her by regularly touching base with J.'s Alere case manager and OB-GYN. Even when Superstorm Sandy blasted through New York at the end of October, Carla didn't stop, and she finally got a hold of J. in early November.

J. was in a tough spot. She was 32-weeks pregnant, had been without power, water or heat for nearly two weeks, and had no food. Carla immediately started making calls and placed J. in a FEMA-sponsored hotel. J. had to walk down 14 flights of stairs to the ground floor, but the baby's father, at Carla's request, helped J. make it to her hotel.

Carla continued to follow up with J., coordinating with LogistiCare, our transportation partner in New York, to get her to OB appointments from her hotel. J. also got a visit at the hotel from her Alere case manager as a result of Carla's coordination.

"We just wanted her to get to 39 or 40 weeks," said Carla. "Full term — that was our goal." And she did! J. gave birth to an 8-lb., 6-oz. baby girl on January 7, 2013. Mom and baby went home five days later. Carla checked on them at the hospital every day and has kept in touch since they went home. Thanks to Carla and her team at HealthPlus Amerigroup, J. even had a car seat to transport the baby home.

This is just one of many stories of our case managers going above and beyond to help our members — your patients — improve not only health outcomes, but also their quality of life. We encourage you to take advantage of the valuable partnership our case managers have to offer.

Get More Training

For our national training team, class is always in session.

Kathy Faber, western region associate vice president of National Provider Relations Support, said 2013 will be a great year for you to take advantage of training opportunities when and where they suit you best.

“We continually evaluate and evolve the type of training opportunities for our provider community as well as the channels through which we offer it,” said Faber.

“We are committed to effectively communicating the leading policies, procedures and processes relevant to providers in all our markets to best impact the quality of member care and ensure everyone has the tools necessary to optimize efficiency.”

The key to the success of our programs is making sure your local Provider Relations representatives are equipped with the state-specific information and resources to best meet your training needs.

Your Provider Relations representative will make sure you and your staff have ample opportunity to attend trainings, whether:

- In person at forums or town hall meetings
- At your office so your peers and staff can attend
- Through webinars for convenient access anywhere
- Online, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week

Currently

We offer trainings on:

- Cultural competency
- Our online services
- Our policies and procedures
- Specialty trainings for nursing facilities, behavioral health providers and more

To learn more about the opportunities we make available at no cost, contact your local Provider Relations representative.

On January 1, 2013, Amerigroup Kansas, Inc. began serving members of KanCare.

We partnered with the state over the last year to implement this unique program that provides managed care services to:

- Kansas Medicaid and Children’s Health Insurance Program members
- Kansans in need of long-term services and supports, including Medicaid members in waivers not previously included under managed care, like:
 - Frail Elderly Waiver
 - Autism Waiver
 - Serious Emotional Disturbance Waiver
 - Traumatic Brain Injury Waiver
 - Physical Disability Waiver

Members also get value-added benefits not previously available through fee-for-service Medicaid, including:

- Dental care
- Career development services
- Health and wellness support

Pardon Our Dust: Website Reconstruction in Progress

We always look for ways to improve, and one focus for 2013 is redesigning our provider self-service website with you in mind.

New Look

Our revamped state-specific public pages are better organized with:
Distinct spaces for news, frequently used forms and reference documents

Links to our partners' and state Medicaid agencies' websites

.....
A login feature — no more backtracking to the main page to enter the secure site

Better Tools

We added new tools and enhanced existing resources to make it easier for you to do business with us:

Online, searchable provider directories with side-by-side comparison and enhanced descriptions to help you make referrals and members make informed decisions about where they receive care

Improved precertification request tool with enhanced status reporting

.....
An expanded Contact Us page customized for the products and services in your area, connecting you with the right customer service resource when you need it

Easier Access

We heeded your call for quick access to documents you reference often, like your provider manual and recent communications.

We moved many resources before login — now open them with just a few clicks. Try it out! Choose your state from the list at providers.amerigroup.com or simply type providers.amerigroup.com/NJ into your browser. The following states already have our new layout, and we're working quickly to finish the others: Georgia, Kansas, Louisiana, Maryland, Nevada, New Jersey, New York and Washington.

Meet Our New Chief Operating Officer

Brian Murray

Experience

Brian Murray, new chief operating officer for Amerigroup Community Care in New Jersey, has more than 16 years of experience in health care. He worked as a consultant specializing in network development for health plans and provider organizations in New York and New Jersey, and served in several director positions in provider relations, network development and managed care at The Creative Group, New York Presbyterian HealthCare System and WellCare of New York.

Just before joining Amerigroup, Murray served as senior market director for WellCare's upstate New York market, where he was responsible for general management of Medicare and Medicaid plans, including oversight of provider relations and operations.

Looking Forward

Murray is excited about the quality initiatives we're rolling out this year. "There's a lot of work going on in the provider community around quality," Murray said. "We want to bring our results to the providers so they can use it to guide their own quality initiatives. Our strategy is to share the data we've collected with providers to help close the loop on the quality circle. We want providers to feel like they are not only hearing one part of the quality circle from the health plan.

"We have a Patient Centered Medical Home initiative as well as a comprehensive primary care initiative," he continued. "Because of the amount of reporting and outcomes-based work that goes along with that, we offer the services of a practice consultant to doctors who have been selected for this program. They can receive no-cost consultant services to help them become accredited for PCMH.

"This year we will continue to offer quality initiatives and incentive programs that we've had historically and new programs to help offset the providers' costs as we ask for health records."

Our New Jersey Provider Relations staff is receiving enhanced training on quality outcomes so they can serve as more of a resource to help answer questions and educate providers on incentive programs and other quality initiatives we have.

Murray, who loves to sail, graduated from St. John's University. He and his wife, Heather, have three sons.

"Our strategy is to share the data we've collected with providers to help close the loop on the quality circle."

— Brian Murray, COO

A Look Back at 2012

We know we have to keep raising the bar for ourselves to keep quality providers like you interested in partnering with us. Our efforts begin on the ground in your communities through our local health plans and extend to our home office, the culture we promote for our associates and our reputation in the industry.

The year 2012 saw health care at the top of national awareness and was a banner year for us — we forged new relationships with state and government entities as well as other organizations. This means better opportunities for our associates, our members and you, our providers. We continued our commitment to volunteerism and social responsibility, recognition as one of the best places to work, and accreditation for our high-quality access to care.

Below are a few highlights:

Extending the Reach of Our Mission and Vision

New health plans launched in Louisiana, Washington and Kansas

Expansions in Georgia and Texas

Acquired Health Plus in New York

Membership surpassed 2.7 million

Joined forces with and were acquired by WellPoint, Inc. — a move that better positions us to serve our members now and prepare for changes in health care down the road

There is no doubt; 2013 will be a year of unprecedented change for all of us — from the challenges we all face while affecting health care quality and reform to the opportunities our company has to continue our momentum in the industry. We'll be here every step of the way to make sure you and our members are well-served.

Visit our provider self-service site to get the most recent, full version of your provider manual and quick reference card.

Don't forget to update your demographic or practice info with us when something changes. This can be done on our provider self-service site or faxed to Provider Relations at 1-866-495-8714.

If you're asked to transfer a member's medical records to another provider, you must fulfill the request within 10 days and at no charge. Thank you for helping maintain continuity of care for our members.

Change to Clinical Utilization Management Guidelines

Effective May 1, 2013, we will begin using the WellPoint UniCare medical policies to support benefit determinations related to medical necessity and investigational/experimental services whenever there are no appropriate Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services coverage guidelines. These policies are publicly accessible from the WellPoint UniCare subsidiary website. We will continue to use McKesson InterQual Criteria when no specific UniCare medical policies exist.

Together, We're a Commendable Team

The National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) awarded Amerigroup Community Care in New Jersey its accreditation status of Commendable.

According to NCQA guidelines, Commendable means we met stringent requirements for the quality of our services, clinical quality, consumer protection and programs to improve overall quality.

We encourage our members to take control of their care, but we also stress the importance of support and coordination of care they get from case managers and providers like you.

Going forward, help us maintain our NCQA accreditation by following the tips below:

27541

Be sure to use proper coding on your claims.

Continue to help us educate our members on the importance of childhood immunizations and blood lead screening.

Promote appropriate use of antibiotics.

Help us reinforce the importance of preventive services like cancer screenings and prenatal care.

ICD-10 COMPLIANCE DEADLINE

The Department of Health and Human Services confirmed October 1, 2014, is the deadline for ICD-10 compliance. Stay informed — request updates from www.cms.gov or follow @CMSGov on Twitter.

Stay Connected With Your Patients

Member Education and Information Sharing

Keeping the lines of communication open between you and your patients is key to quality health care.

We help you and your patients stay in touch by:

- Contacting all new Special Needs Plan members and completing a Health Risk Assessment (HRA) within 30–90 days of their enrollment
- Working with you to coordinate care for your patients based on the results of the HRAs
- Educating our members about the importance of developing a close relationship with you as their PCP
- Emphasizing the role of preventive care exams as part of a healthy lifestyle
- Encouraging members to visit their PCPs regularly for preventive care

Primary Care Provider Quality Reports

Log in to our self-service website for a suite of reports with the most up-to-date health information about each of our members on your panel. Reports are updated daily, weekly or monthly — each is available for at least 90 days.

Report Types

- Hospital admission
- Hospital discharge
- Healthcare Effectiveness Data and Information Set (HEDIS)¹ measures detailing information collected by our case managers, including pain assessments, functional assessments and information on advanced life planning

1 HEDIS is a registered trademark of the National Committee for Quality Assurance.

How to View Your Reports

- Log in to providers.amerigroup.com.
- On the Home page, select Reports from the Tools menu on the right side of the page.
- Select any of the available category names in your report list.
- Select Report Options for a list of available reports, then select the report you wish to view.
- The report you select will open in Microsoft Excel for easy review or download.

If you have questions about the contents of your reports, contact your local Provider Relations representative.

If you have questions or trouble accessing your reports, call our Web Technical Support Team at 1-866-805-4589.

Keeping Members Healthy With the Comfort of Home

There's no place like home, especially for quality health care.

For members with high-risk and complex medical conditions, we offer in-home care and telemonitoring services to help them learn how to manage their conditions, prevent new and worsening symptoms, and support the care they receive from their doctors.

INSPIRIS in-home care visits

This no-cost, no-copay service provides clinical support and education to keep vulnerable members out of the hospital. Through regular visits to the member's home, INSPIRIS providers develop a personal relationship with the member and his or her loved ones to help them understand their conditions, treatments and how to stay healthy. In addition to home visits, members can also reach their INSPIRIS provider by phone 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to ask questions and get advice on health care-related topics. After each visit or call, the INSPIRIS provider will update you to keep you involved in all aspects of the member's care.

For questions or more information, call INSPIRIS at 1-877-230-4604.

To refer a member to the in-home care program, call the Amerigroup Disease Management Centralized Care Unit at 1-888-830-4300.

Telemonitoring Services From Critical Signal Technologies

This program uses advanced technology to give members with chronic health conditions like congestive heart failure the independence and peace of mind to stay safe in their homes. Critical Signal Technologies (CST) offers an array of telemonitoring options to help you manage a member's health.

With the support of 24 hour-a-day, 7 day-a-week, 365 day-a-year customer care, you will:

- Receive vital statistics for each member in a specific date range
- Set parameters for a member's vital signs and be alerted when his or her readings fall outside those parameters
- Identify red flags in a member's health early so you can review medications, diets and activities to avoid unnecessary hospitalization or exacerbations

To use telemonitoring products, members must:

- Be willing and able to take their vital signs daily or have someone who lives with them to help
- Have electricity
- Be able to stand to get weighed or have someone assist them

To learn more about this program, visit www.CriticalSignalTechnologies.com or call CST at 1-866-557-4462.

If you think the program might be beneficial for a member, schedule an office visit to discuss the program and determine if it is a good fit.

If appropriate, complete the Telemonitoring Authorization Form with your signature and the member's signature. Return the form to the CST Care Center at 1-800-325-5145.

To access the Telemonitoring Authorization form:

1. Log in at providers.amerigroup.com.
2. At the top of the page, select Office Support and then Downloadable Forms.
3. Under Office Support Forms, select Medicare.
